Programming Club

WHAT IS PROGRAMMING CLUB?

Programming is a club made for students, by students.
We are a dedicated group of people passionate about computer science. Whether you're someone looking to get started in the world of computers or if you're a coding master looking for a place to hang out, this club is for you.

We offer things ranging from homework help and basic concepts to advanced university-level topics to preparation for programming competitions. We also offer a space for passionate students to present their projects/ideas.

If you have any questions, feel free to ask. Our goal is to make programming accessible to everyone.
